MILITARISM IN GERMANY DEAD SAYS AMERICAN

The following remarkable story is the first written by an American soldier describing actual conditions in Germany:

BY LEROY CONGLETON.

(Repatriated American Soldier.)
(Copyrighted, 1918, by the United Press.)

London, Nov. 30.—The German revolution is genuine, judging from what I saw in Darmstadt, Limburg and Oppaden.

The common people realize for the first time that the militarists duped them. It is impossible for militarism to return to power.

On November 8, German marines went along the Rhine, waving flags, throwing away their weapons and disarming other soldiers.

At Oppaden the people and the garrison were wild with joy. The entire garrison then packed up and all of them returned to their homes.

My guard, announcing the news, tossed his cap and cartridge belt into the air, crying:

"Now we'll have freedom!"

I had acted as interpreter and as a result was allowed the freedom of the towns where we were quartered.

I talked with many people regarding the food situation, which was extremely serious. Here is a menu of a typical family, such as I often dined with:

For breakfast—a substitute for coffee, consisting of barley, etc., and bread made of potato flour and sawdust.

For Luncheon—A soup made from substitutes for fats and potatoes or onions, alternating with cabbage. On Sunday meat was allowed.

For Dinner—Bread and jam. All restaurants were closed. The people had plenty of iron and paper money, but no gold, silver or copper. Anyway, they did not have anything to spend it for.

The factories were making only such necessities as war materials, household furniture, etc. Everything was extremely scarce. I paid 15 marks ($8.60) for a knife and fork. Laborers, who were mostly women, earned 7 to 9 marks ($1.68 to $2.16) a day.

Prisoners did all the farm work. The country was fairly orderly, but presented a very dilapidated appearance. Houses, mills and fences were crumbling to pieces.

All work clothes were made from paper, while dress clothes were remade from old things. Shoe tops were paper and the soles were either paper or wood. Hats were made of straw. The only amusement was the movies.

NO FEAR OF TOO MUCH TENDERNESS
TOWARD GERMANY

London, Nov. 30.—There will be no "attitude of tenderness" toward Germany in the terms to be demanded by the British. Walter Long, secretary of state for the colonies, declared in a campaign speech at Bristol. He advocated solution of the German colonies question by their inclusion in the British empire.

"I could see no other solution than their inclusion in the British empire," Long said.

"Where the natives have been consulted they are overwhelmingly in favor of this."

"As a member of the committee appointed by the premier to consider the terms to be demanded of Germany, I can assure you that you have no need of any anxiety that any tenderness will be shown toward Germany."

NEW UNDER ITALIAN FLAG

Rome, Nov. 29.—(Delayed)—The Italian fleet of the Adriatic, with headquarters at Trieste, is now under the Italian flag.

GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN CASUALTIES
ARE REPORTED AT TEN MILLION

London, November 29.—Austria-Hungary lost 4,000,000 killed and wounded during the war, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. Eight hundred thousand men were killed, including 17,000 officers.

The German losses were placed at 6,330,000 by the Socialist Vorwarts, of Berlin, on November 20. The newspaper's estimate, which was unofficial, said that up to October 31, 1,580,000 German soldiers had been killed and the fate of 200,000 was not known.

Four million soldiers were wounded and 400,000 were prisoners.

The British losses in all theaters of activity, including killed, wounded and missing, officially were placed at 3,049,991 on November 19. Of the total 658,665 were killed, including 37,000 officers.

American casualties have been officially announced as totaling 236,117. Of this number 36,164 were killed and died from wounds. Slightly more than 17,000 deaths were from disease or causes not classified.

BULLETINS

Copenhagen, Nov. 30.—"Prussian militarism in Berlin and anarchy, means the same thing to us," declares a proclamation issued by the liberal party in Baden, demanding complete separation from Berlin.

Paris, Nov. 30.—Two hundred and fifty American officers and soldiers, released from German prison camps were due to arrive in Lyons today. A fifth of the motor trucks Germany is required to deliver to the allies under the armistice terms arrived at the frontier yesterday.

London, Nov. 29.—(Night)—Our advanced troops reached the German frontier, on the whole front, from just north of the Dutchy of Luxemburg to the neighborhood of Eupen (a front of about forty miles)." Field Marshal Haig announced tonight.

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—A report from Berlin today declared that Germany had ceded North Schleswig to Denmark.

FORMER KAISER IS ORDERED TO SEND FORMAL ABDICATION

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern has signed a document, definitely renouncing the throne of Germany and Prussia, as well as releasing all officials from their oath of allegiance, according to a Berlin dispatch received here.

The kaiser is reported to be ill with influenza and was unable to greet his wife when she arrived at Amerongen station.

London, Nov. 30.—The Berlin Government, according to a news dispatch received from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph Company, has sent a telegram to the former German Emperor, now in Holland, demanding the formal abdication of himself and the former Crown Prince.

A report published here earlier today, however, said that the former emperor contemplates an early return to Germany to reclaim his throne.

The former empress arrived by train Thursday at Maarsbergen, Holland, and went by automobile to Amerongen, where the former Emperor is staying according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mirror.

The former empress seemed in high spirits. She was met at the station by the wife of the German minister at The Hague. The former Emperor was not at the station and only a few villagers were about. An automobile load of baggage was taken to the castle but 20 large trunks were left at the station.

KAISER WILL BE GIVEN CHANCE TO ANSWER CHARGES

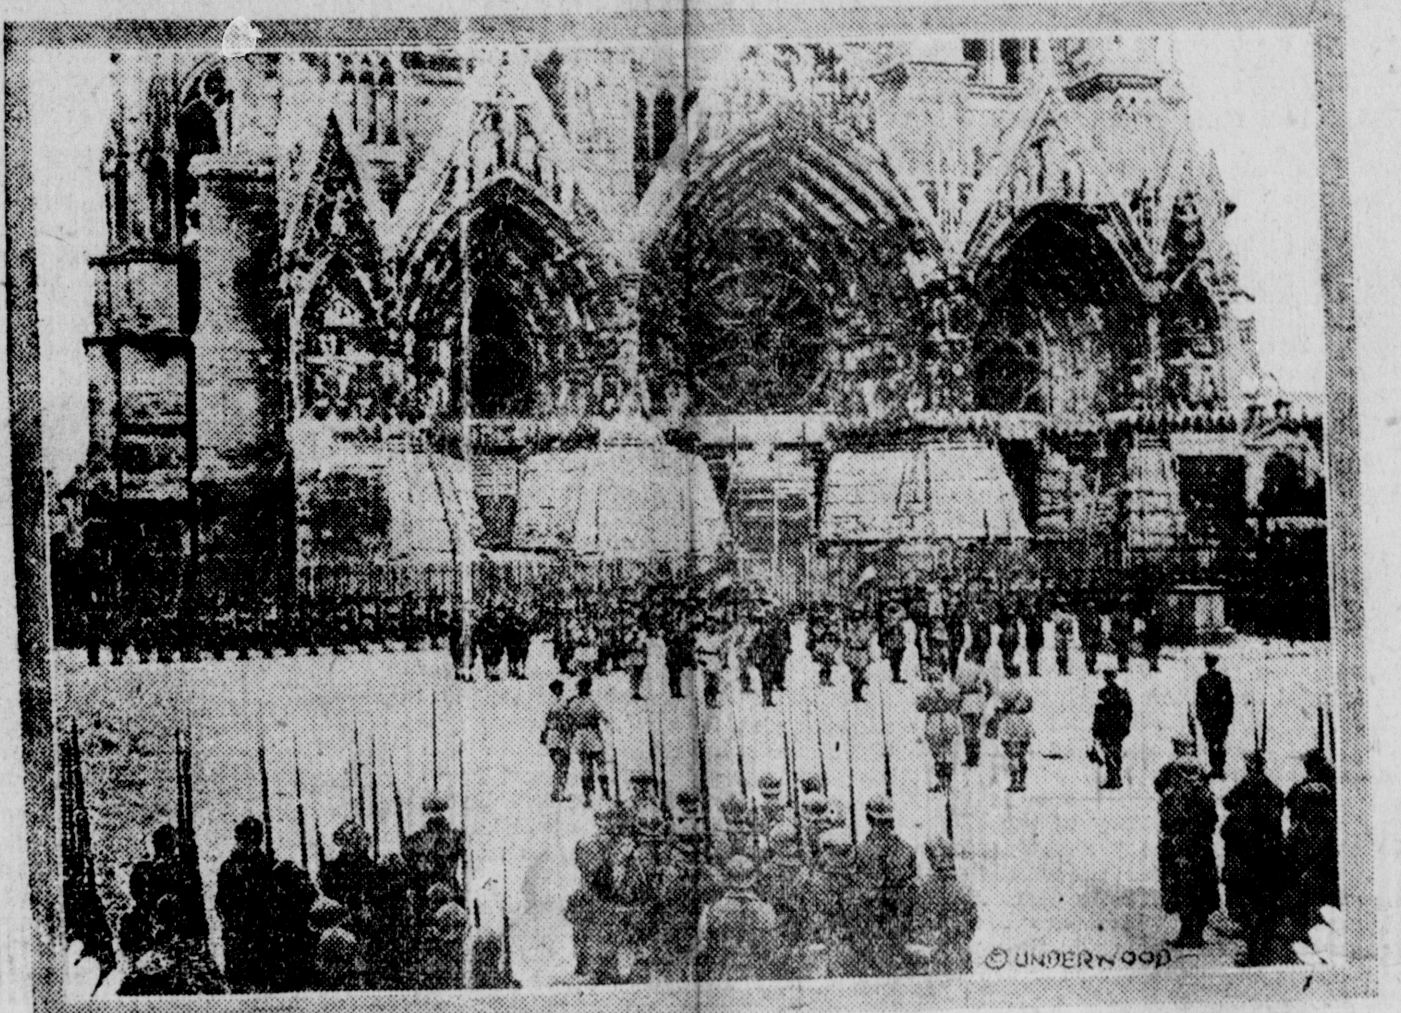

London, Nov. 30.—Count Wilhelm Hohenzollern will be given full opportunity to answer the charge against him, Attorney General F. E. Smith declared in a campaign speech.

"If he is returned to Germany, or is held in detention, the coalition government will insist upon the personal accountability of the former kaiser for the crimes for which he is charged, and personally responsible," said Smith.

"The coalition is determined to give him an opportunity to answer the charges."

Smith intimated that no attempt would be made to punish the former emperor until after the British elections.

FAMOUS RHEIMS CATHEDRAL, BATTERED BY GERMAN FIRE, LOOKS DOWN ON VICTORIOUS FRENCH SOLDIERS BEING HONORED

General Maistro decorating French soldiers before Rheims cathedral after they had re-entered the city.

The famous and magnificent Rheims cathedral was the target of German artillery fire for the greater part of four years. Though sandbag barriers protected parts of it the foe battered it severely, but could not entirely wreck it. When the French re-entered the city a gigantic celebration was staged before the cathedral. French heroes were decorated by General Maistro.

DIVISION OF THE GERMAN FLEET AMONG ALLIES IS CONSIDERED

Paris, Nov. 30.—The pulse of international politics is visibly quickening as additional issues are cautiously brought out in the informal preliminary peace discussions.

The principal new issue is the proposition to divide the German navy among the allies. The United Press is able to state on good authority that this would be received favorably by the United States, which is not deviating from its course that it wants nothing out of the war.

At the same time, the psychological effect on the world of such a division of the fleet would be in keeping with the ideals for which American fought, if the latter accepted a portion of the surrendered fleet.

The obvious object of the suggested division among the allied nations is that such distribution would result in increasing the combined bulk of the European navies to such an extent as veritably to dwarf the fleet of America, which is entitled to maintain equal sea power in the league of nations.

Col. House will not attend the conference of allied leaders in London. His doctors have ordered him to remain in bed. The United States will thus not be represented at the meeting of allied premiers.

Paris newspapers are giving prominence to dispatches regarding the political furor which President Wilson's coming trip to France has created in his own country.

The fact that such an internal squabble could gain such prominence at present is creating amazement in European circles. Here the only question resulting from the president's trip is selection from the rush of applicants for representatives of all classes to welcome him formally.

The allied delegations will begin arriving next week. The British alone will number between 300 and 400, including experts on all subjects. The resultant shortage in hotel accommodations is acute.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy is expected to reach Paris the middle of December. The crown prince of Serbia will be the next member of royalty to arrive.

Edwin Hurley is negotiating for the use of German and Austrian passenger ships to facilitate the transportation of the American army back home. He is also seeking to obtain enemy cargo ships to aid in providing food for the Czechoslovaks and other allied nations which face a serious food crisis.

Food shipments of the central powers will be handled when the blockade is lifted to avoid extra demands on allied shipping.

STRANGE POLITICAL CONDITIONS ARE NOW BEING FACED BY GREAT BRITAIN

BY ED L. KEEN.

London, Nov. 30.—Suppose one of the congressional candidates in your district was selected by a Taft-Bryan coalition. He might be either Republican or Democrat, but in any event pledged to support the coalition through thick and thin. Suppose another candidate was selected by the regular Democratic organization and another by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt.

Maybe you could then begin to approach an appreciation of the bewilderment of the average voter in the British general election in which the situation is even more complicated.

William Howard Taft and William Jennings Bryan would be no stranger political bedfellows than Chancellor Bonar Law and Premier Lloyd George, who by mutual concessions, have framed a really fire reconstruction program.

Their platform is somewhat shy of details, but the coalition candidates are pledged strictly to support all resulting measures.

Bonar Law is using the regular Unionist machinery. Lloyd George possesses no such organization, he and his followers having broken away from the regular Liberal party, but not from Liberal fundamentals.

The coalition is putting up candidates of various constituencies throughout the country—either Unionist or Lloyd-George Liberal—which ever seems the more likely of success.

In the meantime, Herbert Asquith, former premier, is controlling the old "regular Liberal machinery." His party is refraining from general opposition leaving it up to the local organizations to decide whether they shall support the Lloyd-George coalition candidates or put up their own Asquithian Liberals.

The Liberal party, whose progressive platform is designed to attract the bulk of the workmen's vote, is bound to be a big factor, as especially in view of the sympathetic attitude of the leading old time Liberal organs, such as the Daily News, the Westminster Gazette and the Manchester Guardian, who are fondly hoping it is possible that a Liberal-Labor alliance may secure the country from the domination of the coalition, which many regard as more Tory than Liberal.

There is considerable uncertainty regarding the women's and soldiers' votes. The latter are likely to generally support the coalition, because the present government materially helped to win the war.

WANTS KAISER BACK.

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—General Von Elan has announced that the German army will never countenance a socialist republic and wants the Kaiser back, according to a dispatch from Brunswick, received here today.

SAYS POPE WILL NOT LEAVE ROME

Baltimore, Nov. 30.—Cardinal Gibbons today emphatically denied rumors that Pope Benedict contemplated removal of the Holy See from the Vatican.

Fear of the spread of Bolshevism was described in dispatches as responsible for the pope's reported intention to leave Italy.

The Cardinal indicated that there exists between the Italian government and the Holy See, perfect good will and understanding.

ICELAND STRICKEN WITH THE INFLUENZA

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 30.—Winnipeg Icelanders today cabled Prime Minister Magunson at Reykjavik offering aid to stricken Iceland. Cables to local Icelandic newspapers dated Nov. 21, are to the effect that Iceland is in straits never equalled since the black plague of the fifteenth century.

Sixty per cent of the population of Reykjavik, or 10,000 persons, are down with Spanish influenza.

"Kulta," second largest volcano on the island, dormant since 1724, has been in continuous eruption for two weeks.

TWO HUNDRED HUN
U-BOATS WERE SUNK

London, Nov. 30.—The Exchange Telegraph Company says it has learned that 200 German submarines were sunk during the war.

BUY'S ANOTHER PAPER.

Milwaukee, Nov. 30.—Formal announcement of his purchase of the Milwaukee Free Press morning paper, was made by Arthur Brisbane, today.

The Free Press will be merged with the Wisconsin-News, two afternoon papers, which Brisbane recently acquired, and of which he is now acting as editor and publisher.

LORD NORTHCLIFFE THINKS IT IS RIGHT THAT WILSON ATTEND

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson personally will head the American delegation to the peace conference. This was announced officially last night at the White House.

The other members of the delegation will be: Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

Colonel E. M. House.

Henry White, former Ambassador to France and Italy.

General Tasker H. Bliss, former Chief of Staff of the army, and now American military representative of the Supreme War Council at Versailles.

The White House announcement follows:

"It was announced at the executive offices that the representatives of the United States at the peace conference would be: The President himself, the Secretary of State, the Hon. Henry White, recently Ambassador to France, Mr. Edward M. House and General Tasker H. Bliss.

By Robert J. Bender.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson will begin his direct official conference with leaders of the allied nations about December 14.

Having announced the personnel of the American delegation—Secretary Lansing, Col. House, Henry White and General Bliss—the president's plan for leading the commission to France are now complete.

Joseph Grew, formerly chargé of the American embassy in Berlin will be secretary of the American peace delegation.

Owing to the fact that it is not imperative that he be in Paris before December 14, however, there will be no rush about his leave-taking next Tuesday—or exceptional speed in his trans-oceanic journey.

At the White House it was said President Wilson probably would deliver his annual message to congress at one o'clock, Monday afternoon.

Official announcement of America's peace commission, carried only one surprise—the name of General Bliss. It had been expected by those well informed that if the delegation contained five members Secretary Houston would be added to the four originally forecast by the United Press and confirmed last night.

Secretary of War Baker will go to France in a month of six weeks to relieve President Wilson at the head of the delegation when Wilson leaves for home.

A glance at the personnel of the party to go to Europe, with the President, discloses some interesting figures. For instance, the newly named American ambassador to Great Britain, is expected to be aboard the President's ship thus giving the two an opportunity for discussing diplomatic matters that may arise in England during the peace conference and which Davis will be responsible for handling. Davis will leave the presidential party probably at Brest, where the Americans will land, and will go on to his post in England.

Among the women folks in the party will be Mrs. Auchincloss, daughter of Col. House, and the wives of several prominent American war workers in France; in addition to the state ladies abroad.

With the peace conference now drawing near, international lobbies of all kinds and merits are getting under way. In addition to the expected call of Miss Jane Addams for an international gathering of women in Holland to take up peace problems, the Zionists and anti-Zionists are sending delegations to London and Paris. Andrew Purshell, labor leader, will be near the scene of the peace conference, watchful of the interests of the American seamen and America's merchant marine and from across the water come reports that all of the little nationalities which have been under German domination are organizing the lobbies for participation at the peace table.

Labor and congress were disappointed in President Wilson's selection of delegates. Both hoped for representation at the peace table.

The senate today gave signs of venting its feelings next week over what members consider a slight by the President in ignoring that body, both in his appointment of delegates and in refusing to take members into his confidence on his peace plans.

The official announcement of the delegates referred to "peace conferences."

This led to revival of speculation as to a preliminary session to dispose of more urgent questions and a subsequent session to determine matters of less pressing importance.

The naming of Henry White, former Ambassador to France, instead of Elihu Root as the Republican member of the delegation, caused some comment, although during the past week observers of the situation here have been agreed that Mr. White would probably be given the post.

international misunderstanding. It is apparently, evident from the cables we are now getting that many citizens of the United States, democrats as well as republicans, object to the president's voyage. I can only say that we cannot comprehend that situation.

"Britain and her four foster nations, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, have had nearly 900,000 men killed. People of all shades of opinion here realize that our head man, Premier Lloyd-George must be at the peace conferences to look after the interests of a nation like ours, that has suffered so terribly.

"The United States has played a great part in the war and the Germans have consistently addressed the president.

"As a foreign, although a warm friend of the United States, I can express no view of American politics—though, of course, I have many views—but I may be allowed to say, as an expression of personal opinion, that if these conferences were held with President Wilson, the whole European world would think that there was something very wrong indeed with those conferences."

ENGAGEMENT OF POPULAR XENIA GIRL ANNOUNCED

At Mrs. Dilver Belden's prettily appointed bridge party Saturday afternoon, announcement was made of Miss Emily Messenger's engagement to Mr. Royal C. Leslie, of Springfield.

The company of twenty-four guests learned the interesting secret when it was disclosed by the presence of two cards, bearing the names of Mr. Leslie and Miss Messenger, concealed within the corsage bouquet of English violets and Opheelia rose buds, which was presented by the hostess to the winner of the afternoon's games.

There were six tables for bridge, and the hostess used yellow chrysanthemums in decking the living room and the dining room. A wicker basket holding the long stemmed feathery bloom, centered the dining table.

A salad course was served following the games.

The presence of the two cards within the bouquet announcing the engagement of one of the guests, caused a happy flutter of excitement among the young women, the more so because the betrothal of these two young people had been kept a profound secret.

Miss Messenger is the younger of the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Messenger, and is a very lovely and attractive young girl. After graduating from the Xenia high school she took a collegiate course at Denison University, and then went to the National School of Domestic Science and Art in Washington, D. C., where she graduated last year. She placed her knowledge of domestic arts into practice last summer, when with her cousin, Miss Gilliland, she operated the tea room at the Fostoria Country Club.

Mr. Leslie was recently given an honorable discharge from the army, he having been connected with the headquarters of the motor transport service at Cleveland, and he has resumed his business connection in Springfield.

Mr. Leslie is a University of Michigan man, and a member of the Phi Delta Kappa. He is the son of Mrs. Lydia Leslie, of Toledo. He is well known among friends of his fiancée in this city.

The date for their wedding has not yet been set, but it will be an event of the early part of the new year.

Mrs. Belden's guests who heard the interesting announcement made were: Miss Lois Messenger, Miss Emily Messenger, Miss Enid Smith of Cincinnati, Miss Pauline Shoup, Miss Katherine Shoup, Mrs. Chester Hinkle, of Troy; Mrs. George Tiffany, Mrs. J. Walker Gibney, Mrs. Paul B. Yockey, Mrs. Ruthra, Miss Florence Steele, Miss Margaret Steele, Mrs. James Adair, Misses Helen and Elsie Kennedy, Miss Louise Shaffer, Miss Julia Wolf, Miss Jobe, Mrs. Karl Bloom, Miss Grace Galloway, Mrs. Leon Spahr, Miss Lois Babb.

FRENCH CARE FOR GRAVES OF BOYS OF U. S.

Paris, Nov. 7.—(By Mail).—On the wooded slope of a hill that rises in a bend of the Seine just on the edge of Paris there is a little cemetery that is doing much to weld another link in the chain of friendship binding France and America.

Among the 700 graves of soldiers in this cemetery are many graves of American boys who have succumbed to their wounds in the hospitals in the suburbs of the city.

Almost every one of the American graves has been "adopted" by some French family, which takes care of the grave as though one of their own dead lay there. Many families have adopted from 3 to 5 of the little mounds, and one prominent French professional man of Paris has "adopted" 15 and insists upon tending them with his own hands. The duties of the "foster-parents" includes besides the care of the grave, an effort to get in touch with the relatives of the dead hero in America to tell them about the resting place of their fallen soldier.

Every one of the adopted graves is tended scrupulously. Fresh flowers are placed frequently and the American flag at the head of the grave is renewed when it is faded. On Sundays it is not unusual to see a dozen French women in deep mourning, sometimes accompanied by a troop of sober-faced children, reverently caring for the grave of an American who has fallen on the soil of France. When a military funeral draws up to the gate of the cemetery and tenderly deposits another flag-draped coffin, the children gravely salute and follow the little procession to the new grave, and stand quietly while the chaplain reads the simple ceremony and the bugler sounds the final requiem.

Work With a Will.

Whatever your work, do not wait to "feel just like it," before you begin to do your best. If you wait for inspiration you are doomed. Disregard your moods. Pay no attention to your feelings. If it is time to work, set about it, not half-heartedly, but with the whole-souled energy which is an admirable substitute for enthusiasm. To wait till you feel like it before you do your best, is to waste life and power.

HAD THROAT AND STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Mr. Bates tells how he finally got rid of it. Says he's cured.

"I had throat and stomach trouble for 15 years. A dozen doctors gave me no relief. Finally they sent me to Colorado. I stayed there three months without benefit and came home coughing worse than ever. Then I heard of Milk's Emulsion and commenced taking it. Before I had taken half a bottle, I found it was doing me more good than all the medicine I had ever taken. I continued its use until it cured me sound and well. I have gained 15 pounds, don't cough any more and can eat anything. Thank God I heard of Milk's Emulsion."—J. H. Bates, 179 S. West St., Carbondale, Ill. Sufferers from indigestion, bloating, dizziness, bad cough and all other variations of stomach trouble should try Milk's Emulsion. It costs nothing to try—it is guaranteed. And it has quickly succeeded in thousands of severe cases. Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and purgatives. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis, and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

"Seein' Things At Night"

TO MOTHERS! Guard your kiddies against torpid liver, sour stomach, constipated bowels which generate poisons. These "inside" poisons circulate to the brain, producing bad dreams, then a feverish head. Unless you "work" out these poisons you will have a real sick youngster shortly. Cascarets are a candy cathartic, ideal for children. Cost only 10 cents a box. Read below!

Children love Cascarets because they taste like candy. When your child has a white tongue, feverish breath, foul stomach, give Cascarets anytime to "work" the nasty bile, souring food and bowel poison from the clogged-up places. You needn't coax even cross, sick children to take these harmless candy "Cascarets." They never gripe—never injure. Cascarets never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box contains directions and dose for children aged one year old and upwards.

PEACE WILL NOT BRING PANIC TO UNITED STATES SAY FINANCIERS

(By United Press)
New York, Nov. 30.—Peace will not bring panic.

Financial experts here are confident of this. Undoubtedly, prices of food, clothing, and most other commodities will drop, and there will be some friction between labor and capital, due to sudden increases in the available supply of labor. But these conditions will not lead to hard times or financial panic, financiers say.

Conditions immediately following the civil war are pointed to in corroboration of this belief. Although wholesale prices fell off more than 30 per cent between Jan. 1, and July 1, 1865, there were remarkably few business failures. During the entire year 1865 there were but 500 failures, as compared with 5,000 in 1861.

The first decline in prices of commodities is expected to be shown in wholesale markets. Most retail merchants already have anticipated this decline, and are keeping on hand only the lightest possible stocks. When prices begin to drop, buying activity will be resumed, and the increased buying will tend to stabilize the markets.

Merchants who stocked up heavily at wartime prices may find themselves with stocks that must be sold in a declining market, but the coming peace has been so long foreseen that few merchants have placed themselves in this position. Even those of poor judgment, who would have been willing to stock up heavily, have been prevented from doing so in most cases by government regulation of manufacturing. The merchant who wanted a heavy and complete stock of goods found that it would be impossible to lay it in until after the war, as factories had been turned over to war work, and manufacture of peacetime commodities strictly restricted. These restrictions will prove a blessing to many merchants now, or in the near future.

There will be an enormous increase in manufacturing of peace goods as soon as factories can be turned back to their old work, and the thousands of war-work factories built during the last two years can get started on constructive instead of destructive industry. There will be plenty of labor to run the factories of the world when the 50,000,000 men who have been carrying on the business of war return to the business of peace.

But there will be a vastly increased demand for the products of the factories. A starving population does not furnish much business for factories. Many millions of people have been starving or near starvation during the last three or four years. Whatever arrangements are to be made by the statesmen, it is certain that these people will quit starving. They will insist upon it.

Generally speaking, everybody not in the fighting forces has been economizing. Clothing is pretty well worn out, and much new furniture is needed. Buying that has been curtailed during the war will be resumed as soon as wartime prices moderate a little.

Financiers agree that conflict between capital, following return of the soldiers, would precipitate many unfortunate conditions, and are urging a liberal attitude upon both employer and employees in the matter of readjustment. Labor has gained much in the United States since war began, and unions are recognized in many factories where they were not recognized before the war. This ground of union advancement labor leaders are sworn to hold. If employees try to take advantage of the more plentifully supplied labor market by repudiating their new and perhaps enforced attitude toward organized labor, widespread trouble is inevitable. Those who are anxious that the return to peace be made quietly and without upheavals.

Some employers already have asked publicly of the lower wages they expect to enforce, and labor leaders are alert for further signs of change. Some manufacturers are preparing to continue their wartime liberalism toward labor, and the expression, "Unionism is better than bolshevism," is frequently heard in the councils of the employers. Most of the large employers seem to agree that the less striking of the pot of industrial unrest is done at this period, the better for all phases of production.

The more gradually war workers are fed back into peaceful industry, the better for commercial and economic conditions generally. All students of the problem of readjustment admit. Already the infiltration process has begun, and there is no immediate prospect of violent reaction. But only extremely bad judgment, acting epidemically, could bring on panic with the restoration of peace and normal producing conditions.

EX-KAISER COULD BE EXTRADITED TO THE UNITED STATES

New York, Nov. 30.—William Hohenzollern, the ex-king, could be extradited to the United States and placed on trial for his crimes, in the opinion of Charles Thaddeus Terry, a member of the executive committee of the American Bar Association.

"The Kaiser has been indicted in two western states, and under the treaty between the United States and Holland, his extradition could be effected," Terry declared today.

To vindicate the highest instincts of the human conscience, to satisfy the requirements of universal law, to re-establish the rules and regulations of international law, the trial of William Hohenzollern must be held," said Terry.

"In dealing with the question of extraditing William Hohenzollern, from Holland, it is necessary to avoid technical definitions of specific crimes. We must place the emphasis on those crimes which are recognized as such by all mankind. Accordingly, we must avoid the term 'piracy' and the term 'homicide,' and deal only with 'wilful murder' on the one hand and that which, in our own treaty with Holland, is described as an extraditable offense committed on the high seas, without designating the same by specific expression."

TAX BUDGET REVISION IS NOW COMPLETE

Washington, Nov. 30.—The Senate Finance Committee has completed revision of the war revenue bill, designed to raise six billions of dollars in taxes in 1919 and about four billions in 1920. The measure is virtually rewritten to meet changed conditions attending the end of the war. It now goes to the printer and will be reported to the Senate next week, probably on Thursday.

Senate debate, Senator Simmons said, may begin the following Saturday or Monday. With Republicans lined up solidly in opposition to inclusion of 1920 tax rates in the bill, it was conceded in all quarters that discussions in the Senate will delay passage of the measure, and many Senators expressed doubt that it can be enacted before March 3, the date of the ending of the final session of the Sixty-fifth Congress.

In view of the expected delay Senate leaders and Treasury Department officials alike are concerned over the question of collecting taxes next year, as it is now admitted that unless the new law is enacted before January 1 collections must be made under the present revenue bill, the yield from which is only about four billions of dollars.

YOUNG MAN HELD FOR DESERTION IS GIVEN HIS LIBERTY

George Walter Nooks, young Greene county soldier, who has been absent from Camp Sherman for several months without leave and who was arrested in Xenia last Saturday at the request of the military authorities, regained his freedom Friday afternoon via the habeas corpus route. Attorney Younklin acting for young Nooks, secured a writ of habeas corpus, requiring Chief of Police Canaday to produce Nooks in the Court of Common Pleas. Judge Kyle ordered him released from custody on the grounds that the police department had no right to hold him longer than four days without a warrant. When Nooks said they would send for him at once but it was not until Friday night that Corporal Bell, from Camp Sherman, showed up to claim his prisoner. He was informed that Nooks had been released a few hours earlier by order of the Common Pleas Court. Corporal Bell informed Camp Sherman of that fact by wire and was ordered to remain in Xenia until recalled.

It is probable that Nooks will be re-arrested. Nooks, himself, declares he is going to Camp Sherman immediately.

BULLETS DON'T STOP 'EM.
Paris, Nov. 7.—(By Mail)—An American automobile just in from the front attracted a great deal of attention on the boulevards of Paris recently. It had been literally riddled by machine gun bullets, but was still in good running order and was being used by a major of artillery. The body of the machine looked like a kitchen colander. There were 120 holes through one side of the car and many of the bullets had ploughed out the other side. Whenever the automobile halted a crowd gathered and invariably the French soldiers in the crowds saluted and the civilians raised their hats when the occupants reappeared to enter the car.

DAYTON SOLDIER MOURNED AS DEAD REPORTED LIVING

Dayton, O., Nov. 30.—While busily at work yesterday morning giving a soldier boy a haircut and a shave, Philip J. Burgmeier, who owns a little barber shop on East Fifth street, near Stone, paused a moment at his task to answer his telephone. Imagine his joy when he heard the glad news that his son, Private Burgmeier, who had been reported killed in battle October 4, is still alive.

The man at the other end of the wire, who had brought such joy and happiness to the heart of the barber, was Joe Shell, who resides near Dayton. Shell had just received a letter from his brother, who claimed he had just seen Private Burgmeier and was going to pay him five francs which he had borrowed from the boy.

The father could scarcely wait until he had finished shaving the lad in khaki, so that he could tell his family the good news.

QUESTION OF BEER MANUFACTURE NOW UP TO COMMITTEE

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson's special committee which restricted the manufacture of beer as a war measure, met today to decide whether the ban shall be lifted.

B. M. Barch, Vance McCormick, H. A. Garfield and Herbert Hoover were the original members. Judge W. A. Glasgow is acting in Hoover's absence.

The restrictions were based on the necessity of conservation of grain, fuel and railroad shipping space. The fuel and railroad situation is now relieved and the question has been narrowed down to one of food.

HOW RHEUMATISM BEGINS

The excruciating agonies of rheumatism are usually the result of failure of the kidneys to expel poisons from the system. In a majority of cases rheumatism is an indication that uric acid has pervaded the system. If the irritation of these uric acid crystals is allowed to continue, incurable bladder or kidney disease may result. Attend to it at once. Don't resort to temporary relief. The sick kidneys must be restored to health by the use of some sterilizing remedy which will prevent a return of the disease.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. They are a standard world-famous medicine in use for over two hundred years. They have brought back the joys of life to countless thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel and other affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs. They will attack the poisons at once, clear out the kidneys and urinary tract and the soothing healing oils and herbs will restore the inflamed tissues and organs to normal health.

GOLD MEDAL is the original Haarlem Oil imported direct from the home laboratories in Haarlem, Holland, by the Genuine Haarlem Oil Mfg. Co., Haarlem, Holland, American Office, 116 Beekman St., N. Y.

All others are imitations. Ask for GOLD MEDAL and be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box. Three sizes, at all good druggists.

OFFICER DROPS IN ON HIS FRIENDS

Paris, Nov. 7.—(By Mail)—Lieut. Herbert Hudnut, lately of Princeton and New York, "dropped in" on his old outfit the other day.

He came over to France in May attached to an artillery unit. After a few months he was transferred into an observation balloon organization. He shook hands all around and expressed the hope that he might "drop in" on them sometime somewhere in France. During the strenuous weeks that followed he lost track of his old "gang." In the fighting in the Argonne he was observing the German lines from his "sausage" balloon when a boche aviator sailed along and opened up with his machine gun. Hudnut took to his parachute just in time. The balloon collapsed in a burst of flame. In a couple of minutes Hudnut alighted gently in the top of a tree and started to climb down. From the lowest crotch he paused to survey the crowd of soldiers around the foot of the tree. "Whateenell you doing up our tree," shouted one of the officers. It was Hudnut's old outfit posted under the tree.

LET US DO AS WELL AT HOME AS WE DID
"OVER THERE."

The general feeling is that the war is over, or about over, and that Peace, the Dove with the Olive Branch, is about to perch on the world's ark, to the happiness of mankind.

This brings to us all such a feeling of satisfaction that we said our Thanksgiving prayers with more heartiness than ever before, and asked God to hear us in the hope that never more shall the world be cursed by a cataclysm of such horror.

During the nearly two years that we have been in the struggle, great and important conditions have had to be brought about in our own blessed land. Things have had to be turned upside down in a hundred ways. And now comes the great task of returning the country to civil life.

This is not going to be an easy task, but will require the united effort of all of us to help in the arduous task. We are, every man of us, to feel our individual responsibility to do our share to return the country to normal conditions.

As we felt, while the worst pressure was on us, to give and save in every way we could, to win the war, so now that wonderful success seems assured, let us feel that our duty is not done until we have helped bring the country back to its wonted condition of happy prosperity in the pursuit of industrial conditions which have made the nation the leading one on which the sun shines in its daily round.

"Home, Home, Sweet Home," is ours of America, and we must be so thankful for it that our ambition shall be to transmit it to our children not only unimpaired as we found it, but bettered as God gives us the wisdom to improve wherever we have found deficiency.

"A wise man once said "a republican government is a hundred times weaker than one that is autocratic," and this has long been the general belief, but thank God a new day has arisen in the last year, and autocracy like the saloon, must go. For we have found that the people of intelligence can manage their own affairs better than the fellows claiming they are "born to rule" can manage them for them.

"The old order of things is passing away. People are waking up." All the world needs is education—education like we have it in this country, where the poorest boy may become the richest. Where the most ignorant may become the most learned. All half our public school system, which compels youth to learn, and becomes the Jacob's ladder from the hovel to the mansion.

"A certain man once said: "The two powers which constitute a wise man are those of bearing and forbearing." God who has given us the Bible has also given us our reason, and we are guilty before Him if we bury this talent in the earth and hide our Lord's money.

"We glory in the wonderful thought that our own, the youngest of the nations, seems the guiding star to the balance of the world. It is because God has given us the intelligence to do our own thinking. Out of gratitude to the noble men who founded our land of Liberty—to many who fought and died for it, let us bear and forbear in every day of need. Out of gratitude to Washington and Lincoln let us more and more enoble in our hearts our love of country.

WHAT CHRISTMAS WILL BRING OUR SOLDIER
BOYS IN FRANCE.

A late cablegram from Paris tells of plans made for bringing Christmas cheer to patients, nurses and enlisted men in hospitals in France. In consequence of recent Army orders governing the distribution of gifts it has been deemed desirable to give such articles as are procurable in France, and the American Red Cross program for the Christmas celebration, adopted after consultation with commanding officers and Red Cross workers in the hospitals has been arranged on that basis.

It is part of the plan to have a Christmas tree in every ward of every American hospital in France, as well as in every recreation hut at hospital points. These trees will be decorated by the Red Cross personnel at the respective hospitals. It is proposed, also to give to every patient in the American hospitals a pair of American Red Cross socks, tied together with bright ribbon, and filled with an orange figs, nuts, candy, a handkerchief and a Christmas card on which will be outlined the service the Red Cross is prepared to render American soldiers. The socks will be filled by the Red Cross personnel, with the aid of the nurses and convalescent patients.

Other features of the program include festivities at all the recreation huts, in the form of music, moving pictures, etc., and the serving of refreshments; and the making of arrangements for the serving of some special dish or treat in the way of fruit at the noon day meal in all the American hospitals. It is planned to invite to the festivities the children in localities where hospitals are located. The American Red Cross already is having printed in booklet form, for distribution to the hospitals collections of well-known American songs. These will be distributed by Christmas.

Still another feature provides for the sending to the hospitals packages of post cards of attractive design, in quantities sufficient to enable each patient to mail home as many as he desires to the different members of his family and to his friends.

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

RUTH LEARNS THAT MANDEL LOVES HER.

CHAPTER III.

Ruth held her breath. "Oh, why had such a thing happened? Mr. Mandel had been so good to her, and through her he would lose this wealthy customer. Perhaps, too, he would think it partly her fault that this man had acted as he had—that she had in some way encouraged his advances.

With an unpleasant sneer on his face, the customer had replied to Mandel's threat to throw him out if he did not go at once:

"You wish to keep everything for yourself? I suppose. I must congratulate you upon your taste," then before Mandel, who had turned purple with anger could reply, he turned and walked swiftly out.

"Come in here," Mandel said to Ruth, as he opened the door of his private office.

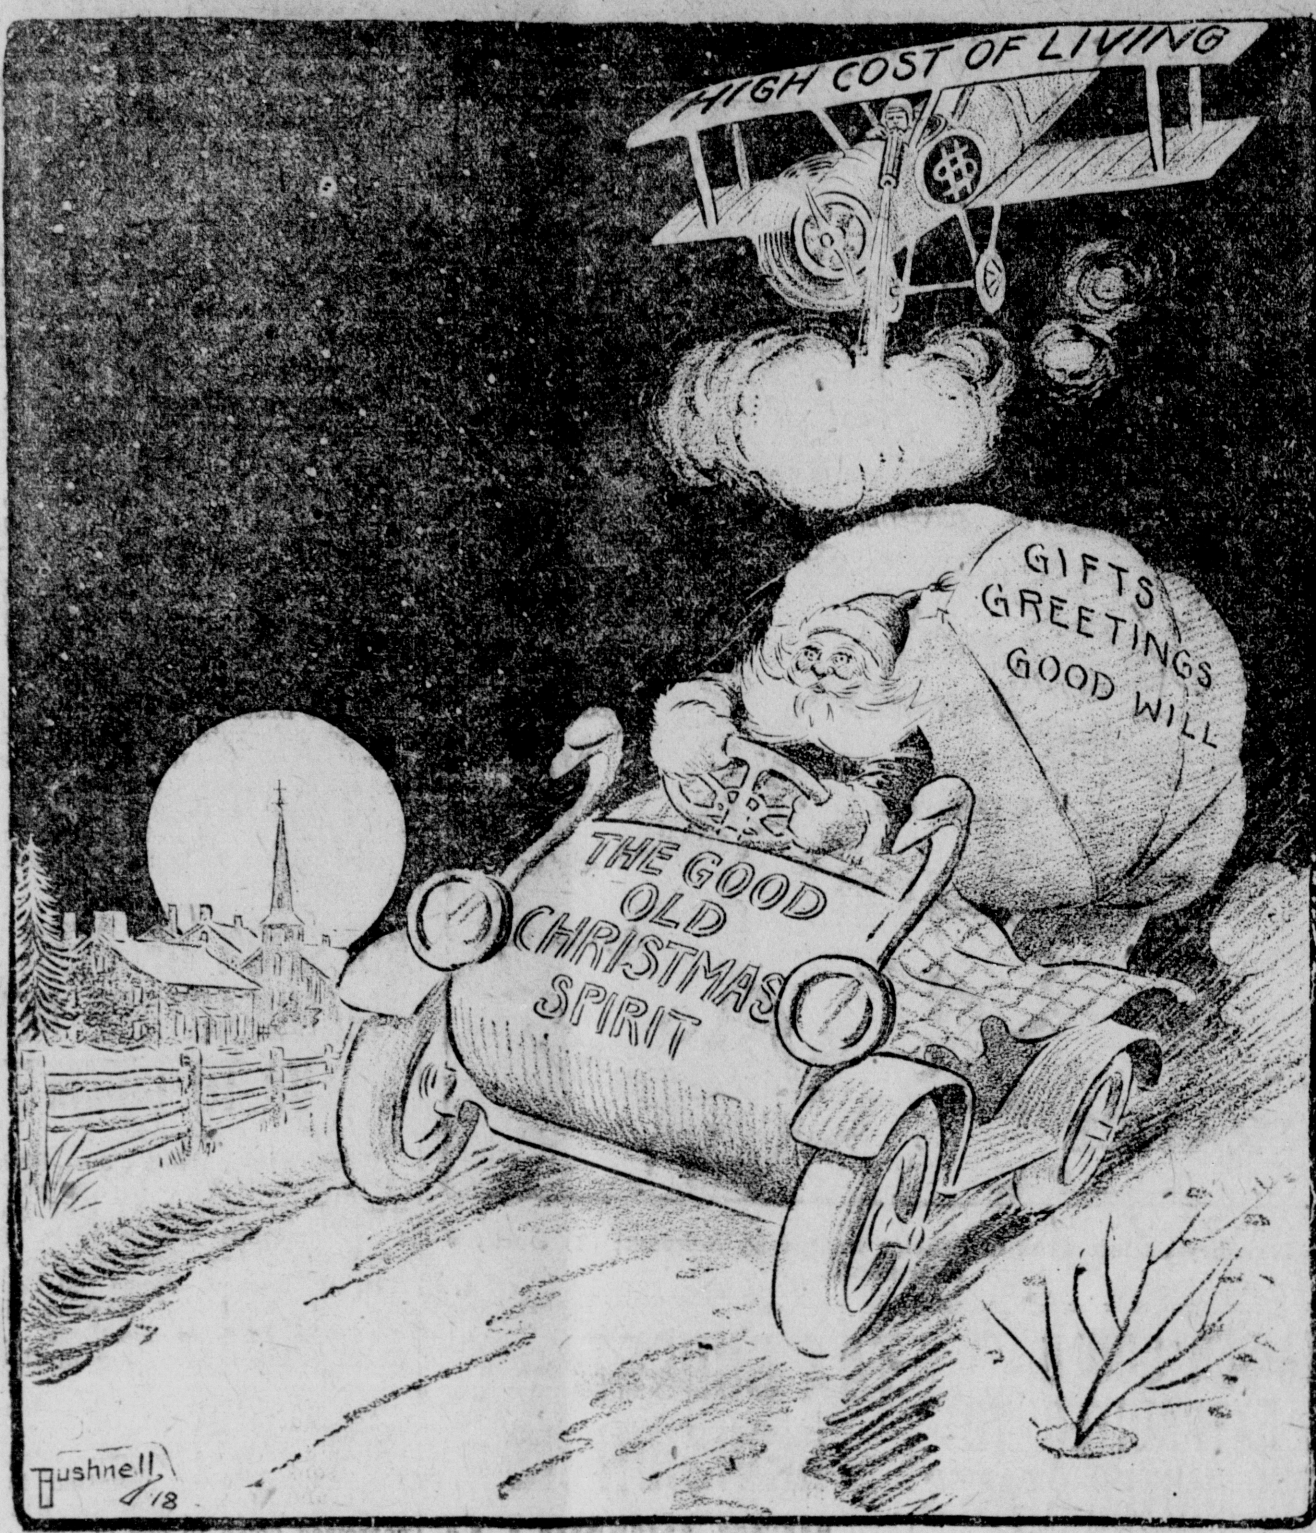

He pushed an easy chair toward her and as she sank wearily into it her eyes filling.

"I'm so sorry—I—" "Please do not explain," Mandel interrupted. "I saw and heard enough to know that no blame could possibly attach to you."

"But—I have lost you a good customer."

"Never mind that! I would not have had this happen for all the customers in New York. You are more to me, Ruth, than any customer—more than anyone in the world. You know that—I have not been able to hide it from you. And when I saw that man offer you insult, it was almost more than I could stand. You are not offended with me, too, are you, dear?" Ruth had covered her face with her hands. "A good man's love never hurt any woman, even though it cannot be returned."

His voice had trembled a little at the last. He feared he had been precipitate, even though he had waited so long to tell her of his love. But he was sure Brian cared nothing for Ruth; that he was unfaithful, and that Ruth was unhappy. Her eyes which so often of late had shown traces of tears, signs of which she was unconscious, had added to his feeling that in time he would win her for his own.

"Oh—please," she begged, lifting her face to him, and letting him see the pleading of her eyes.

"Forgive me," he was contrite in a moment. "But you will understand how upset I was when I saw your distress and you will forgive me. Here, drink this, you are trembling like a leaf," and opening a small cellophane in the corner, he gave her a glass of wine.

Ruth drained it eagerly. Desperately did she long to recover her voice, to show this man that he, too, had offended her by speaking as he had, and yet, in a way, she was so grateful to him that she was not really angry.

"I think I will go—if you think I can be spared," she said haltingly. "You mean—to leave me—because I—" She nodded.

"Ruth, Mrs. Hackett, won't you accept my apology, and let things be as if I had never spoken? I promise I shall not offend again."

Ruth was of course unconscious of the mental reservation he had made that he would say nothing more while she remained with Brian. He really believed this a matter of a short time; and he was a very patient man.

"I should love to stay if—" "You may trust me. Now I am going out to talk to Lamonte. Stay here until you have fully recovered." And without a backward look Mandel passed out, leaving Ruth sitting alone.

"Oh, what shall I do?" she moaned. Ruth had sensed the desire, the love in Mandel's voice, and it had distressed her. Not entirely because she had no right to listen, but because she had hurt this man who had been so good to her. Hurt him because he loved her. Her mind flew to Brian. What would he think if he knew of the morning's happenings? He would surely say she had been to blame, if for no other reason than because she had gone to work against his wishes. She must not tell him. It would be the first thing she ever had kept from him, the first secret between them.

For an hour Ruth remained quietly in Mandel's private office. The door opened and the office boy came in with a large tray, which he placed upon the desk before her; and then again she was alone. She lifted the napkin and a delicious luncheon, dainty and appetizing, was revealed. Her eyes filled again at this mark of thoughtfulness, and half an hour later, when she thanked Mandel for it, she told him with a tremulous laugh that she had watered it with her tears before she could eat, and all because of his kindness.

Then she went back to her desk. But all that afternoon she carried thoughts of Mandel in her heart, kind thoughts almost obliterating what the other man had said and done, and in a measure winning her to look upon what her employer had said to her in a different spirit from the one she had been in while he talked.

No, she would not tell Brian, she decided, on her way home.

To Be Continued.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Annie English Adams, wife of Earl Adams, former Greene countians, died of pneumonia at her home in Silver Lake, Ore., according to information received by Xenia relatives Friday.

The letter which bore the news of her demise, said that her husband and two children were also lying at the point of death from the same malady. The pneumonia followed influenza.

Mrs. Adams was 33 years old and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard English, formerly of the Union neighborhood, now living at Linsey, Cal. Besides her husband and six children, she leaves her parents, two sisters and four brothers, all living in the west. The Adams family went to Oregon about eight years ago, and took up a government claim, on which they are living. Mr. Adams' parents and a sister and brother, are with them.

are fundamental in their action, they go down to the root of the trouble, restoring liver, stomach and bowels to a healthy condition; giving quick relief from bilious attacks, indigestion, headache, heartburn, flatulency, depression of spirits—and affording absolute freedom from these disorders. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are tonic, therefore they form no habit.

Batteries Should Never Freeze

If your battery freezes it's your own fault. There's proof right in the ice that you haven't taken care of it—that you haven't kept it charged. A properly charged Willard Battery can't freeze, even in the coldest weather. Come in and we'll tell you why batteries do sometimes freeze, and how you can tell when yours is cold-weather proof. While you're here ask for a copy of our booklet—"A Mark with a Meaning for You." It tells just what the Willard Mark stands for.

BROTHER OF WALTER
BEATTIE IS KILLED

Lieutenant Arthur J. Beattie of Norwalk, whose name appeared in the casualty list of a few days ago as killed in action, was a brother of Walter Beattie, formerly supervisor of music in the Xenia public schools. Walter Beattie, whose home is at Grand Rapids, Mich., is in France as a Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Lieutenant Beattie was known to a number of Xenia young men who had been in school with him at Dennison University.

Some Difficulties.

It is almost as difficult for some women to get their hats on in the evening as it is for the men to get theirs on in the morning.

STICK TO FINISH ON WAR WORK

Stick to the finish.

An armistice with Germany has been signed.

But the war is not over.

It will not be over until peace treaties have been signed.

So there is just one way in which to make a good job of finishing it—and that is to keep up until you have finished the things you have been doing for the past 18 months.

Continue conservation; continue to give to war aid and relief; maintain morale at home.

Do whatever you have been doing a little better than you have ever done before.

When the time comes for you to be discharged from your war duties you will be notified.

Until that time, carry on.

—Ohio Defense Council.

Just Like Willie.

Teacher—"Some rivers are sluggish in their course. What do I mean by a river being sluggish?" Willie—"It means that it likes to stick to its bed."

CHAS. S. HART
EX-PUPIL OF HOME
GOING TO EUROPE

Charles S. Hart, an ex-pupil of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, who is director of film distribution for the Bureau of Public Information, sailed for England about two weeks ago, and will spend several months in that and other allied countries, as well as Holland, Switzerland and Sweden. He will look over the situation with a view toward presenting United States government pictures overseas, and the bringing to America of foreign made official films which have not been brought here, owing to the war.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Hart, the film "America's Answer," was shown at the Home about a week ago. Mr. Hart's interest in the institution where he spent his boyhood days, is active, and the children and employees there have enjoyed a number of good films through his courtesy.

Mexico Can Claim Dahlia.

The dahlia is a Mexican plant, it is of Mexican descent. It is said that it was taken from Mexico to Europe not to be admired as a flower, but to be served on the table as food. According to historians of the dahlia, there are nine varieties of the flower indigenous to the high sandy plains of Mexico. In the matter of the dahlia as a food the story runs that the present blossoms have been developed from Mexican tubers introduced into Europe for the purpose of supplanting, or at least of supplementing, the potato, which not so very long before had been introduced into Europe from South America—some say from Peru and others claim the honor for different parts of our western continent.

LIVES COUNTED FOR NOTHING
WITH KAISER

So long as there was the least glimmer of hope kaiser Bill clung to his dream of world empire. That delusion died hard.

So long as there was anything to be destroyed toward Paris he drove them on relentlessly. Lives counted for nothing.

So long as there was anything to be destroyed in the invaded countries his troops were encouraged to destruction. Nothing of value was spared. So long as the conquered cities could be drawn upon for tribute they were forced to pay. Financially they were bled white.

So long as there was a cathedral within cannonshot it was bombarded. The Germans had an inexplicable antipathy toward churches.

So long as there was a hospital to be bombed it was made a target for the air men. Hospitals could not be bombproofed.

So long as German ingenuity could fashion new and hellish methods of warfare they were used ruthlessly. Humanity wasn't considered.

So long as there was a vessel to become a U-boat victim it was torpedoed without warning. Women and children made no difference.

So long as there was any means of spreading terror among their opponents, civilian

STUDENT ARMIES IN GREENE COUNTY TO BE MUSTERED OUT

The Student Army Training Corps will soon be a thing of the past in Greene county.

Orders have been received by the commanding officers at Antioch college and Wilberforce University to begin the demobilization of the men of the S. A. T. C. December 4, and conclude by December 21.

At Wilberforce, two army training units will be demobilized. The S. A. T. C., known as A section, and the vocational training unit, known as B section. The latter comprises regularly enlisted soldiers in the army, who are in training at Wilberforce for occupations in the army, such as auto mechanics, electricians, blacksmiths, carpenters and the like. The government took over the Combined Normal and Industrial Department at Wilberforce as a training school last June, and two camps of men have been graduated, and assigned to different cantonments. The third camp is now in training there. There are 140 men in A section and about 155 in B section. Lieutenant Piper is the commanding officer.

Fifty-four S. A. T. C. men will be mustered out of the service at Antioch. Lieutenant Eaton, who is commanding at the school was in Columbus Saturday obtaining information regarding the demobilization. It is expected that many of the students will continue at the college to pursue regular school studies.

President Scarborough of Wilberforce will call a meeting of men of the S. A. T. C. Monday to find out how many will continue their academic or vocational studies at the college. Photographs of the entire 650 students of the army training units separately and combined will be taken the first part of the week also. The demobilization of B section at Wilberforce will commence Monday.

TAKE OLD MEN BACK TO EMPLOYERS

A plea to employers to take back, as far as possible, former employees who answered the call to the army, was issued by the U. S. Employment Service for Ohio today in connection with the opening of an employment office at Camp Sherman for the purpose of assisting men to jobs as they are demobilized. Arrangements are being worked out by which these employees now in camp may be brought in touch with their old employers, if such is desired.

A plea was also issued to employers of Ohio, small as well as large, to register their labor needs with the nearest U. S. Employment Office at once and to keep the Employment office posted as to any changes in their needs during the coming weeks. Where there is no U. S. employment office, requests may be sent to C. H. Mayhugh, State Central Office, U. S. Employment Service, 74 East Gay street, Columbus, Ohio.

Over 30,000 men are to be demobilized at Camp Sherman during the next few weeks and the Employment Service is geared at top speed to prevent, as far as possible, unemployment resulting from demobilization.

BACK TO THE FARM MOVEMENT OF SOLDIERS IS BEING ADVOCATED

Back to the farm!

Demobilized soldiers with farming experience are to be asked to help get unused farm land in Ohio under cultivation next spring.

Plans for getting in touch with men of this kind as rapidly as they are discharged at Camp Sherman, were announced by Thomas D. Phillips, farm help specialist of the U. S. Employment Service. At the same time, he said arrangements had been made whereby unused farm lands in every county of the state would be listed for use in handling this matter.

The aim is to get men who had been lured from the farm before the war. Most of the farm boys inducted into service will automatically return to the farm, Phillips believed. He thinks that the outlook in the farming game is such as to induce men to follow it, rather than the more crowded industrial lines.

Through a survey conducted by the county farm bureaus, Phillips will get data as to the farm land available. With this information, a farm labor man sent to Camp Sherman will interview soldiers there with farming experience. Location of the land, wages for farm labor, or terms for those who wish to lease farm land and other details will be available for such soldiers.

"The food needs of Europe as well as the economic future of America, make it imperative that we increase food production," declared Phillips. "As every one knows farm production was barely keeping ahead of consumption before the war, due primarily to the fact that many farm boys were attracted to the cities. We want to make this a real back-to-the-farm movement and believe that now is the time to make an effective campaign in that direction."

"If we can get only a relatively small per cent of the unused farm land under cultivation next season, Ohio will increase her food production enormously."

High Cost of Living Solved By Using Pepsinco, a Systematic Method of Digestion.

Thousands of tons of food are wasted thru improper digestion of food. Many persons are using a new system of food digestion, not only because our government's food expert says that we shall conserve the food, but also, the high price of food stuffs compels retrenchment. They find that a little food well digested will go farther and do more good than a large quantity poorly digested.

Pepsinco, this systematic method of digestion, is inexpensive and can always be relied upon. The dose is small and powerful. One little tablet will digest an ordinary meal. Everything will be assimilated. The meal will give you strength. No food will be wasted, once you start this treatment.

Stop at the drug store today and get a small package of Pepsinco.

XENIA CITY AT LAST, HAS GONE "OVER THE TOP"

After some pretty "rough sledding" in the last days of the campaign Xenia city finally went over the top in the United War Work drive Saturday morning. A $50 subscription received Saturday morning turned the trick, boosting the city subscription to $12,538.73. The city quota was $12,500.

With the exception of those county districts previously reported as "over the top" no other districts have yet reached their quotas and unless they do some hot hustling within the next forty eight hours they are doomed to go down in defeat. John W. Prugh, county chairman of the War Work committee, announces that the Greene county campaign will officially close Monday and the district committee chairmen are asked to make full reports to H. S. LeSourd, the county treasurer, not later than 6 o'clock Monday night.

It is understood that several of the township districts which are lagging behind are still working and it is possible that one or two of them may reach the goal. Spring Valley township's showing is up to date the most disappointing in the county. It is reported from that township that the campaign was rendered difficult because one Spring Valley township soldier wrote home that the Y. M. C. A. was no good. Although tens of thousands of other soldiers have written home that the Y. M. C. A. the K. of C. and other organizations mean everything to them, this one letter was used as an excuse to curtail subscriptions. This township has raised about one fourth of its quota.

As soon as all the reports are in the county treasurer will give out for publication the quotas and subscriptions by districts so that the public may know which sections of the county did the best work.

Chairman Prugh states that while the county can not hope to reach its maximum quota of $12,600 based upon a $250,000,000 subscription for the entire country it will pass its minimum quota of $32,000, which was based upon a national quota of $170,000,000 plus a 20 per cent average. As the entire nation raised $203,000,000 the subscription of Greene county is approximately 11 proportion to the total amount raised in the country.

WAR COMMITTEES AND BUSINESS MEN INVITED TO MEETING

Members of Xenia Business Men's Association, and members of all war organizations in the county, including all committees that have in any way aided in war work, are invited to hear a lecture at the assembly room of the Business Men's Association Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock by W. H. Rucker, a prominent attorney of Cincinnati. Mr. Rucker is coming to Xenia under the auspices of the Vice War Exposition which will be held in Cincinnati December 14 to 22 inclusive. His exposition which is presented by the United States and allied governments, will include exhibits of all kinds of war materials and thousands of relics from the battle fields of France.

Mr. Rucker will speak concerning this exposition and he will also give an address which will be most interesting.

Both men and women are invited to this meeting.

One Step.

WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER Influenza

Reports Show That Strenuous Energy and Ambition turn Very Slowly to Crisp Patients.

After an attack of influenza, doctors advise that nature be assisted in its building-up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will act only put strength and send it into the body, but will also help to build up and strengthen the run-down coils of the brain.

One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy in to both body and brain is Bio-feren—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-feren—the kind of iron that makes red blood corpuscles and creates vigor. There is lecithin also; probably the best brain invigorator known to science. Then there is good old reliable gentian, that brings back your lagging appetite.

There are other ingredients that help to promote good health, as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kolo, that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people.

Taken altogether Bio-feren is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak, run-down person to regain normal strength, energy, ambition and endurance.

Bio-feren is sold by Sayre & Hemphill, Xenia, Ohio, and all reliable druggists, and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients are advised to take two tablets after each meal and one at bed time—seven a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money upon request—without any red tape of any kind.

Note to physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren, it is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycero-phosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux. Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Glaciosa Capivum; Kolo.

Catarrh in Some of It's Many Forms Claims Thousands

Every farm family has its medicine cabinet and in almost every one will be found a bottle of Dr. Hartman's World Famous Peruna. For coughs, colds and catarrh it is invaluable. It's use is indicated in all cases of catarrhal inflammation and congestion whether of respiratory organs, stomach, bowels or other organs of the body.

Mr. W. J. Temple of 309 Lincoln Ave., Delaware, Ohio, suffered for years with inflammation of the mucous lining of the stomach and bowels. According to his own story he did not eat a meal for five years without distress. He says: "I am Peruna is sold everywhere. You may buy it in either liquid or tablet form. Ask for Dr. Hartman's Well Known Peruna Tonic and if you are seeking health take nothing else. Insist upon Peruna. If you are sick and suffering, write The Peruna Company, Dept. 77, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac."
